

Data Sources and Their Impact on Systems Development and Implementation

Steve Prisley (VPI) and Greg Triplett (The Timber Company)

A discussion of building and maintaining spatial and tabular databases. The paper will focus on initial data conversion issues and the assessment of data accuracy and precision. Methodologies for spatial data layer construction and editing will be reviewed. The GPS / GIS interface will be reviewed in light of spatial data assessment.